

are very steep and narrow. To the south the mountains are lower and the canyons are quite wide and the soil in their bottoms is very fertile.

The field in secs 26-27 & 35 in what is known as Pink Cañon located by W^m Woyle contains about 30 acres under cultivation and he is making arrangements to clear off and fence as many more acres above and below the field.

The land is well watered and the hillsides covered with grass.