

General Description

All of this township now surveyed is mountainous, well watered by springs and streams from melting snow, and affords first class grazing.

There is no timber save a few aspens in the ravines.

Secs 28 & 29 contain iron.

In some instances I was unable to set stones to prescribed depths but in all cases set the same firmly in the ground and as deep as practicable.